

While "The Commission's policy should be to encourage the use of Amateur Radio," by eliminating the Morse requirement is foolhardy and to do so for all when it affects a small number of hadicapped persons that other provisions have been made for, certainly makes this petition ingenious, at best.